

Electric vehicle chargers installed at VCU

By: Times-Dispatch

Published: May 06, 2011

Virginia Commonwealth University unveiled electric vehicle charging stations Thursday at its West Broad Street parking deck.

Two charging stations are on the second floor of the parking deck and two more in the north deck on the MCV campus.

At 240 volts, the L2 EV charging stations can charge a vehicle in one to four hours — up to three times faster than an L1 charging station. VCU is the first university campus in the state to acquire the L2 charging stations.

